How to Approach this Devotional Journal

For the next five weeks we'll be dwelling in God's Word making room in our heart for our Savior and allowing the Holy Spirit to teach us.

This is a devotional – but it's different.

Instead of a daily "devotional thought" to read, this devotional will give you a weekly passage from God's living Word to read and meditate on. Let the Word be your quide.

This devotional gives you space to write out the prompting God brings to your own heart from His Word with the goal of knowing God better. Let the Spirit be your Teacher.

Each week will give you time to reflect on the passage we covered in the past Sunday's message.

Here's how to approach this devotional study:

- 1) Pray. Take the time to speak to the Father and let Him speak to you. Be thoughtful and intentional in this opening time and let it set the tone for your time in the Word.
- 2) Memorize. Each week you'll have a verse to memorize. Read, write, meditate on that verse throughout the week. Highlight the verse in your Bible. Write it on a sticky note. Keep those words before you all week and let those words dwell in you.
- 3) Dwell. Read the passage for that day with a heart first to see God.

Always ask: "How can I know God better?"
